Below is one of our customers review:

I purchase this for my Nissan 370z with the Bose system. This radio is fantastic. It took me a while to hook it up but managed to get everything to work. 'Steering wheel controls and backup camera all working'.

I suggest that you download and install Poweramp from Playstore. It is far superior to the built in player.

I am using Torque with a Bluetooth adapter and it works.

I read comments about the quality for the built in mic, but I find, even with my loud exhaust it is OK. It comes with an external Mic but I did not install it.

If you use the voice app on a Samsung phone you can even send a test message. You just need to have the Bluetooth screen active. You need to double tap the voice key on the phone to activate.

I have the GPS sensor mounted under the dash by the glove box and it works Flawless. No need to have it on top of the dash, as long as there is no metal blocking the signal. I use HERE MAPS as it is the one I am use to.

I hope in the future they will have a radio that is Sirius\XM compatible.

Communication with AutoPumpkin has been great. They always responded to my questions

I will recommend this stereo and Pumpkin to other people.
