After Installation:

I have just received this android autoradio dvd gps and installed Pumpkin for Ford. I have installed this android double din radio on 2004 Ford F-150 Lariat and also 2005 F-150 Lariat. It is exact fit for both pickups, you do not need a frame or any other part. Installation and connecting the wires are extreme easy because this car dvd comes with sockets and adapters for Ford manufacturer connection fitments. Hook up the cables with no soldering, no cutting, no taping and no extra wire running. I kept GPS antenna above the device not even needed to take it outside on the dash or anything. Very good reception. This Pumpkin car stereo is extreme fast and very responsive. Touch screen and everything is just perfect, i mean i cannot explain how happy and satisfied i am with this product.

I am also going to install esky back up camera with wireless receiver and transmitter. For that reason i didn't close up the dash frame completely yet as you seen in my photos.

I installed this doubt din navigation radio like in minutes. All plug n play. My car is a 2005 Ford Freestyle.

Issues I had was Mirrorlink, but I got an link for an update and works fine.

The radio covers lots of Ford cars, but the one issue is the Can-Bus adapter. Some will get reverse sense for backup while other need to wire to reverse wire(Me). Also RES on the Freestyle is not retained. I see this as very common (Read Entertainment System (DVD)).

This I will look into when it gets warmer.
