

Customer Review on Pumpkin Upgraded 10.1 Inch Auto Headrest DVD Player

Today we'll check together what our customers said about another Pumpkin 10.1 Inch Headrest monitor auto dvd player.

Brief Introduction of Pumpkin new 10.1 Inch Rear Seat Headrest DVD Player:

After Installation:

I've only had headrest tv for one day and i will update review if required, but as of yet this is GREAT. I do not use DVD's, ever. I strictly download movies and shows for use at my house as well as a tablet for my daughter when we go out to restaurants. This car video monitor doesn't require data and its convenient. So when i started looking at in car entertainment this was also a requirement. I had purchased a very cheap portable DVD player that also took USB's to try. It required me to use software to change the size of the video (all my movies were to high resolution for the crappy screen) as well as sometimes changing the codec to allow the video to be recognized.

I purchased this lcd monitor with 1080p with the hopes that i would not have to adjust resolution anymore. Amazingly i took a thumb drive with movies out of my tv and stuck it in the player and this headrest monitor started playing instantly! No issues, full resolution. FINALLY!!!! this will be amazing on car rides and i can't wait to use it.

The install was super easy, they give you lots of choices to make sure you have something that fits your headrest "posts". once installed it looks great, if not HUGE!! I really didn't realize how big 10.1 inches was until it was installed in car, its MASSIVE!!!

There are a lot of options on this car tv monitor i will never use, such as the hard-wire to aftermarket head unit (nice option though), as well as the games and such. But those are all extras to me. I paid 130 ish for a HD screen that allows me to quickly throw movies onto a thumb drive and pop it in and go. Not having to deal with DVD's and adjusting digital movie resolutions and codecs is worth its weight in gold to me. As of now i have tested a 32GB USB 3.0 thumb drive as well as a 8gb 2.0 and it worked great and I will be testing more later. 32GB worth of movies is more than enough for 8 hour drives!!!

Can easily be removed as well in case you are parking in a not so nice area or for long periods of time and you don't want people to see the big screen. In the pic of the mount i posted you can see a silver thumb screw. All you do is unscrew that and unplug the power cord and it will slide off the mount and you can stow it under your seat or wherever, very convenient.

In the pics i haven't removed the screen protector thing that comes on it.
